Klamath ‘takings’ case filed with U.S. Supreme Court

March 17, 2020

For those of you who have been fighting this battle for the past several years, it is likely that the names and faces of the compact commission members and its support staff that “negotiated” the Flathead Water Compact are burned into your memory.

Well imagine our surprise to see one of those names come up again in an article about the Klamath Falls takings case published in the the Capital Press on 03/13/2020:

Jay Weiner, special water counsel for the Klamath Tribes, said the Klamath Tribes are confident in the decisions reached by the district and appeals court.

Weiner is based out of Rosette Law Firm in Sacramento.
