

New World Order = Global Technocracy

TNA Video | February 25, 2020

In this episode of Behind The Deep State, host Alex Newman explains that the New World Order globalists talk about so much will not be communist or capitalist. Rather, it will be a technocracy. Relying on the excellent research of Patrick Wood, Newman highlights the nature of this form of government, and warns about how dangerous it is. In short, it means no freedom and rule by elitist technocrats, supposedly in the interest of the environment or economic efficiency. Communist China is the premier model today, but this horrible system is spreading its tentacles around the world with help from top Deep State organizations such as the Council on Foreign Relations.
